

FAMED HORSES, LARGE EXHIBITS, RACES, FOR QUEENS-NASSAU FAIR

When the Minceola Fair opens at Minceola on September 30 it will present to its thousands of visitors attractions which, from an entertaining and educational viewpoint, have never been surpassed by any county fair in this State.

There will be free attractions every day, among them 18 performing stallions, Belmont's Derby Day Beauties, which will perform daily under the direction of William Schraube, European horse trainer. So perfectly are these horses matched and trained that they perform practically their entire set without a word of command from Schraube. Drills and evolutions of the most intricate kind are among the numbers offered. Fancy stepping and dancing are also in the repertoire. This act has been termed by New York critics as the "finest aggregation of equines ever exhibited."

Another free act will be the performance of The Devries Troupe, consisting of three ladies and one juggler in an aerial novelty act which is a thriller and on a par with any big act of its kind. Herbert's Leaping and Racing Greyhounds will be shown daily also.

The big feature of the numerous harness races events will be a three-heat race on Wednesday, October 1, between the three fastest pacers in the world, Single G. (1.58 1/2) Margaret Dillon (1.58 1/2) and Sir Roach (1.59 1/2). This is the first time that these three pacers have been matched for such a race in the East.

A new record will be established for the fast Minceola track when these horses meet and one that will probably stand for many years.

Each day on the track the State Troopers will exhibit their prowess as rough riders, making right, left, double and rear jumps, participating in airplane riding, Cosack riding, Roman races, Pyramid riding and horse hurdlings through hoops of fire.

The Baby Show, which attracts thousands each year, will be larger than ever. Beautiful prizes will be awarded in the many classes that the show embraces.

An Agricultural Pageant arranged by the Nassau County Farm and Home Bureau will be produced on Friday afternoon, October 3, larger and more interesting than the one presented last year.

The regular exhibits of the Fair will undoubtedly thrill many. A special display will be made by members of the Queensboro Society of Arts and Crafts, of oil paintings and water colors, and a special exhibition of tapestries and studies of art, the work of Miss Rosalie Sparacino, of Richmond Hill, will be shown in the art room of the Society.

The annual Horse Show in which $3,000 in cash prizes will be awarded, will be held on October 1, 2, and 3. It is expected that all classes will be filled. The Poultry Exhibit has grown so large that $6,000 in prizes has been set aside this year.

A large automobile show will be held on the grounds, and on Saturday, October 1, automobile races will be held on the track. These races are regarded as one of the largest of the many sporting events held yearly in the metropolitan district and on Long Island. The races will be held under the official sanction of the American Automobile Association, the governing body for the sport in America.

Homespun Suit

Trim, smart and warm is this gray homespun plaid suit for fall and winter wear. The narrow fringe adds the necessary touch of femininity and the material is the same material. It is worn by Lois Wilson.

AMERIND DEMOCRATS GIVE LAWN PARTY
Members of the Amerind Democratic Club are to hold their annual lawn party and dance at the clubhouse lawn, Elmhurst, this afternoon and evening. Children will play games and receive refreshments in the afternoon. The evening will be reserved for adults. Mason O. Smedley, sheriff, has given much aid to the committee arranging the festivities. The sheriff has added novelties for the children's program. Harry Labelle is general chairman.

Hollis Relative Of Tree Family Success on Stage

The large number of friends in Hollis and Queens of Miss Grace Voss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Tree Voss, of Irvington street, Hollis, will be pleased to learn of the laurels she is winning at home and abroad in the theatrical world. Her success is doubly interesting because of her relation to the well known English Tree family, with its distinguished connections with the stage.

Doris Tree, formerly with the Little Jesse James Co., now one of the dancers in Earl Carroll's "Vantilles," and Grace Voss, have chosen stage careers appropriately, as they come from a family eminent in stage annals, being directly related to Ellen Tree, the celebrated English actress, who ranked among the highest representatives of English comedy and drama. Ellen Tree made a starring tour of this country with great success, finding warmest favor with theatregoers as well as the best educated and refined classes of American society. Later she married Charles Keane, the famous Shakespearean actor, with whom, in 1865, she again toured this country with equal fame and profit.

Mr. Keane was appointed by Queen Victoria to be conductor of the theatrical performances at Windsor Castle, which office he filled for 26 years with great success, due partly, as he said, to his wife's tact and ripe professional cultivation, whose advice he sought on every important matter. In 1851 Mr. Keane became sole lessee and manager of the Princess Theatre in London, where they began a very brilliant career in placing the plays of Shakespeare on the stage in a thoroughly correct and elaborate manner. After retiring from managerial duties they made a professional tour around the world.

Anne Maria Tree, an elder sister of Ellen Tree, was the first to sing that immortal song, "Home, Sweet Home," in public. Charles Kemble, then manager of Covent Garden Theatre, London, bought a quantity of John Howard Payne's writings, among which was a play entitled "Clari, or The Maid of Milan." It was set to music by Henry Bishop, afterwards Sir Henry Bishop. "Home, Sweet Home" was in one of the parts sung by Anne Maria Tree, who was prima donna of the opera company; his success was instantaneous, and, incidentally, won a wealthy husband for Miss Tree, who became Mrs. Maria Bradshaw.

These young ladies have the blood of these ranking professional artists in their veins; fine mental gifts, and the culture and refinement of this talented old English family. They are devoting themselves to a high fulfillment of their professional pursuits.

Imogene Wilson Joins Comedians in England

Imogene Wilson is going back to her native land. The former Hollis beauty, whose turbulent tribulations led Mrs. Frank Tinney to enter suit for separation against the noted comedian, spent today packing her trunks.

Tomorrow, with a passport made out to Mary Robertson, she will sail on the liner Columbus for England, occupying the same cabin in which Tinney recently journeyed to England, where he is appearing in the varieties. Arrangements for her passage were made by Tinney by cable. Imogene will be accompanied on her voyage by Bobbie Grey, the comedian's faithful valet.

NORTHPORT MEN HELD

Here is a Roofing that gives fire protection and will last a lifetime

NATIONAL AANA (Asbestos and Asphalt) Slate Surfaced Roofing is guaranteed for twenty years. It will last a lifetime.

Composed of two thicknesses of Asbestos felt and two layers of solid Asphalt (or 50% more than will be found in the average Asphalt Shingle), NATIONAL AANA is an all mineral roofing, having no "wear out" elements.

Real fire protection is afforded by the double thickness of asbestos, in recognition of which the National Board of Underwriters awarded Class B rating to NATIONAL AANA. This means lower insurance rates. The crushed slate surface, in mellow shades of red and green or blue black, is highly decorative and cannot fade.

NATIONAL AANA Shingles are guaranteed not to curl, eliminating a most serious fault often found in other Asphalt or Wood Shingles.

Compared with Wood Shingles or other Asphalt roofings, usually guaranteed for only ten years, NATIONAL AANA gives double the service at half the yearly cost.

Made in Shingles for houses and private garages, and in roll form for commercial or farm buildings. By using this Flexible Asbestos Roofing you will settle, at minimum cost, the roofing question for the lifetime of any structure.

A part of the "Golfview Gardens" Development—Right at the St. Albans Station and adjoining the Golf Course

St. Albans is only one and one half miles from Jamaica, the railroad centre of Long Island, and is one of the most beautiful home towns in Queens Borough—St. Albans being the first station east of Jamaica, on the Montauk Division, which is to be electrified by next May, and is in a position to feel the rapid impulse of development.

The section is favored by being the centre of the main highways, such as Central, Farmers and Locust Avenues and Merrick Road, which give direct access to New York, Brooklyn, the South Shore and the North Shore.

This community was a prosperous farming section some fifteen years ago, at which time an active real estate movement started and this section began to develop rapidly, until today it is a well-known, built-up suburban community, with trees, sidewalks, macadam and asphalt streets, water, electric light, city fire and police protection, public school, Presbyterian, Episcopal and Roman Catholic churches, a Christian Science society, a Masonic organization with its own club house, and stores. A new $500,000 school house is now completed only a block or so from the property to be sold.

Two bus lines on Farmers Avenue and two bus lines on Merrick Road pass the property, with a 5c fare to Jamaica, connecting with Subway WITH A 5c FARE TO MANHATTAN, BROOKLYN AND THE BRONX.

In the last few years great numbers of golf enthusiasts have gathered here to enjoy the sport furnished by the St. Albans Country Club, one of the most popular golf clubs on the island, the attractive golf course of which is immediately opposite the property to be sold. Around this club are several attractive home developments known as Addison, Country Club District, and GOLFVIEW GARDENS.
